Your website was cited once, for your running injuries page. Your Google profile was cited twice.

1 thing AI got wrong

What it said: you're closed on Saturdays.
What's true: your website says 9:00 to 13:00.
Likely source: your Google profile, which still shows the old hours.

3 fixes we'd start with

1. Update your Saturday hours on your Google profile so they match your website.
2. Publish your session prices as text on a prices page. Prices came up often and no answer could quote yours.
3. Add a page on back pain, a common question where you weren't named.
